Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Quinlan.

Quinlan shows a settee comprising an elongated seat unit having a seat frame (1) and a backrest frame (2), wherein the backrest frame defines a tray-accommodating space (4). A tray support unit (8) is provided with a tray support frame to rotatably move from a stored position in the tray accommodating space to a use position, and vice versa.

With claim 2, the tray support unit has a pivot plate (3) formed with a vertical slot (19) and a pivot pin (18) that extends through the vertical slot. The pivot pin is movable upwardly and downwardly along the length of the vertical slot.

Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mashkevich.

Mashkevich shows a settee comprising an elongated seat unit (10) having a seat frame (16) and a backrest frame (20), wherein the backrest frame defines a tray-accommodating space. A tray support unit (24) is provided with a tray support frame to rotatably move from a stored position in the tray accommodating space to a use position, and vice versa.

With claim 2, the tray support unit has a pivot plate (42) formed with a vertical slot (50a) and a pivot pin (52a) that extends through the vertical slot. The pivot pin is movable upwardly and downwardly along the length of the vertical slot.

Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by De Filippo.

De Filippo shows a settee comprising an elongated seat unit having a seat frame and a backrest frame, wherein the backrest frame defines a tray-accommodating space (5). A tray support unit (6) is provided with a tray support frame to rotatably move from a stored position in the tray accommodating space and to a use position, and vice versa.

With claim 2, the tray support unit has a pivot plate (8) formed with a vertical slot (9) and a pivot pin (10) that extends through the vertical slot. The pivot pin is movable upwardly and downwardly along the length of the vertical slot.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Smith, Tseng, Shea et al, Nobile et al, Brennan, and McKee are cited as showing similar types of settee.
